What The Counselling Service Offers

- Confidential one-to-one counselling for ages over 14 years.
- Sessions lasting 50 minutes, occurring once a week at the same time, normally for a duration of 8 weeks.
- Session times: Weekdays 9am-4pm, Monday - Wednesday evenings 5pm—8pm.
- The service is an accredited member of COSCA (Counselling and Psychotherapy in Scotland) and works to its Code of Ethics and Practice.

Client Suitability

Counselling is not always useful for everyone — in particular, those who suffer from severe and enduring mental illness may not be able to make best use of the short-term service we offer.

How To Make A Referral

- Please use the form opposite and return it to FDAMH (address on reverse).
- Referrals may be made by health professionals, Social Work Departments, and any other statutory or voluntary organisations; clients may also self-refer by simply calling us on 01324 671615.
- On receipt of the referral we will issue the client with an information pack, asking the client to complete and return some simple forms. Clients returning the required forms will be placed directly on our waiting list.

About Our Counsellors

Our team of volunteer counsellors have all undergone counselling training on established Diploma courses and have supervision and support for their work. We offer placements to trainee counsellors at Diploma level.

Fast Track Service

This service is available for clients who wish to pay for their counselling sessions. Clients will be offered counselling within 14 days for a fee of £35 per session. This removes people from our standard service, helping us to reduce waiting times for all our clients.
